BIO

A restless selector, Lordie has mastered the art of reading a room and bending it to his rhythm. He left behind a corporate career to give everything to the music, and that conviction runs through every set he plays.

His performances build with intention and carry a natural lift.

They always leave room for feeling, and they hold the floor from the first beat to the last.

From intimate club sessions to festival stages, his sets have ignited crowds across Europe and Africa, in Kyiv, Lagos, Abuja, Helsinki, Lahti, Tübingen and Budapest.

Every city brings a different crowd, but the reaction is always the same: total surrender to the groove.

STREAMS

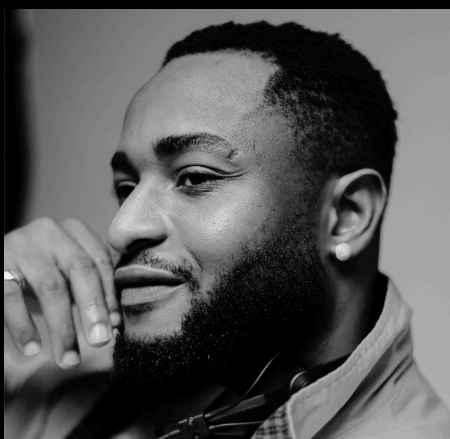

In the studio, Lordie's Afro tech originals carry the same weight as his live sets. They are rhythmic, soulful and engineered for the dance floor. Each one continues his mission to fuse Naija vocal traditions with contemporary Afro tech textures.

His vision is to champion the Naija sound across Europe and Nigeria. He aims to build lasting scenes through collaborations, curated parties and festival showcases.

His mixes are available on SoundCloud and YouTube.

Lordie isn't following the sound. He's setting it.
